Stephen Bruno Featured as Thought Leader in Windows in Financial Services Magazine

Executive's interview featured in a profile of Insurance Technology industry leaders on the topic of Strategic IT Investment Critical to Competitive Edge

Coconut Creek, Florida, 6/30/2009 — Computer Solutions and Software International, Inc. (CSSI), parent company of VUE Software®, today announced that Stephen Bruno, President and CEO, was interviewed in a profile of Insurance Technology industry leaders in Windows in Financial Services Magazine Spring 2009 issue.

As the driving force behind one of the leading technology providers for the insurance industry, and with eighteen years of experience in the industry, Stephen Bruno provided his insight into the approach insurers should take with strategic IT investments during an economic slowdown.

"Even in these lean times, organizations need to plan and invest for long-term goals. Additionally, innovative technology solutions form the foundation that will prepare an organization for the changes that lie ahead both in the downside and during the recovery," he stated.

He was also asked to capture the new capabilities that insurers can successfully wield to sustain their market share.

"Carriers are continuing to adopt relationship management solutions in an effort to provide better service, both internally to their agents and externally to brokers and customers. More forward thinking carriers are looking to implement a comprehensive strategy, a fully-integrated approach that manages the entire cycle from point of contact, to online enrollment, to paying broker commissions and managing renewals."

This is the second time Mr. Bruno has been featured by the publication. The full interview can be read online at the Windows in Financial Services Magazine website.
